

- The “antral nipple sign” - redundant pyloric mucosa protruding into the gastric antrum,
- The “cervix/nipple sign” - indentation of the pylorus into the fluid-filled antrum.
- The “shoulder sign” refers to an indentation upon the gastric antrum produced by hypertrophy of the pyloric muscle.